Link with the past broken

With the passing of Frank Buckland on Tuesday another link between the Central Okanagan and its past has been broken. Mr. Buckland came to the Kelowna area just after the turn of the century and learned to love it deeply. During the half century he lived here he never lost his interest in any aspect of the Okanagan, agriculture, business, geography or historical. His was an inquiring mind and he went to considerable pains to establish the authenticity of many tales told about the earlier days here. He was no mean raconteur himself, but he was more than that. He put a great deal of his information on paper and future generations will bless his name for having done so. As the years go by his efforts in this direction will become more appreciated and his writings undoubtedly will take an important place among the historical documents of life in the early days.

With the passing of Frank Buckland, another link with the past is broken. But he, so unlike many others, has left a contribution for future generations. In his own way, he has put on paper much of the story of life in the Okanagan during the early days of settlement. His writings will be his memorial.

Just a little tired of it all

Obviously the people of British Columbia have become just a little tired of the Doukhobors and their shennanigans. This was made evident by the general approval of the move taken by the provincial government last week in arresting some 150 of the Freedomites who had paraded in the nude before school children. The general public did not necessarily believe the action was the correct one, but it WAS action.

There seems to be no solution to this problem. There have been attempts made at understanding, but the actions of the Freedomites are beyond the ability of normal Canadians to understand. Kindness has been tried and repulsed; force has been tried and been ineffective. Now apparently we are in for another round of "force" treatment.

Last week-end Premier Bennett made a plea for "patience and co-operation from B.C. citizens" while the government carries out its program. In the opinion of this newspaper, the request was a reasonable one. Some action had to be taken and the government finally did take action. Now it is up to the people of this province to support the legal authorities in their move. Sniping can do no good; it can do harm.

The government's stand would seem to be reasonable. The Doukhobor form of marriage is to be recognized and they are to be given the vote. (Why, goodness knows!) But the government program includes, on the Doukhobors' part, the living within the social structure as the rest of the people in the province are required to live. Their children must attend school and they must comply with the regulations on vital statistics.

The key to the whole situation, it would seem is the question of school attendance. The Freedomites will oppose this to the last as they know that if the children go to school they will eventually become assimilated into our way of life. On the other hand, there can be no possible solution to the problem unless the Freedomite children attend the schools and have an opportunity of becoming acquainted with our way of life.

Certainly, things can't go on as they have the past few months with their burblings, their blowing up of railway tracks and their nude parades. Religion is one thing; fanaticism is another. The policy of laissez faire has been tried and found ineffective. Some active—perhaps, strong—measures must be taken and when taken must have the support of all the people of this province.

While the Freedomites perhaps deserve some sympathy as misguided fanatics, there can be no forgiveness for the part the federal government is playing in this whole affair. The federal authorities are primarily responsible for the whole situation because it was the federal authority which originally permitted this intolerant group to enter the country. Now Ottawa sits back two thousand miles away and folds its hands complacently. This when its proteges burn houses and schools and try to wreck trains. Ottawa should be hiding its head in shame.

Victoria may be making a wrong move, but it is making a move and any body that makes any move to bring the present disgraceful conditions to an end has the sympathy of this newspaper, and its support.

Unearned increment

The gratification of the CCF leaders over the party's improved representation in Parliament will no doubt be tempered by realization that they are the beneficiaries of one of those paradoxical situations which are not unusual in Canadian politics. In other words subtraction in the country has become addition in the House of Commons; they have snatched more seats from a smaller percentage of the popular vote. In seats they jumped from 15 to 23, yet their vote was down.

As was to have been expected; the CCF party drew some profit from the confusion which has reigned since the collapse of the Coalition government in British Columbia. But the principle factor was the change of fortunes in Saskatchewan, the party's original home and hunting grounds. The CCF was never strong in Alberta and slipped back in Manitoba, while it returned only two members, from Manitoba eastwards. More than ever it would seem that its national aspirations are giving way, as is the case with Social Credit, to a very definite provincialism. Indeed, the recovery in Saskatchewan appears directly related to popular concern over a single provincial interest, the South Saskatchewan dam, which Prime Minister St. Laurent, to the embarrassment of his own local supporters, persisted in regarding from a national viewpoint.

In the general election of 1949, the CCF obtained 13.38 per cent of the national vote, a sharp drop from the 16 per cent realized in 1945. Canadian Press calculations credit the party with 12 per cent in 1953 and while this is neither final nor official, there is no reason to believe that it will undergo any substantial change.

It may be assumed that the CCF group will speak with a louder voice in the next Parliament, and no doubt a louder voice is politically necessary if only to divert attention from the party's steady decline in influence and in popular support.

Junior fall fair livestock winners

AMONG THE BEEF YEARLINGS, these three were adjudged the best. First prize went to Gerald Geen, Ellison (right); second and also best showmanship prize to Bruce Clement (middle) of Ellison; third prize, Ken Hardy, South Kelowna. Ken Hardy was aggregate winner in the livestock class.

City grieves Frank Buckland's death; leaves writings as greatest memorial

A man who loved Kelowna and the Okanagan so much that he wrote reams about it for a permanent record and whose good he left behind will live long after he is forgotten, passed quickly from this life Tuesday morning.

Frank Morgan Buckland, after whom Buckland Avenue was named and who lived a full life of 80 years, nearly 50 of those devoted to this community, was claimed by a heart attack. His death came suddenly at his home in the Belvedere Apartments.

His writings, the result of painstaking research, spurred on by a consuming desire to trace life in the Okanagan from its earliest beginnings, are his greatest memorial.

Considered his finest historical completion of either of the two masterpieces was a book that has never been published, entitled "Okanagan's Vigil." The book (there are only a few copies available, Princeton). He and the late J. N. Cushing were the first ones to take an auto over this trail.

The other was the "Naramata road. Like the scores of others many years ago, he spent hours upon hours of toil on the Kelowna end.

GREATEST AUTHORITY

Generally considered the greatest living authority on the history of Kelowna and the Okanagan, the late Mr. Buckland with Lionel Norris of Vernon, furnished the Okanagan Historical and Natural History Society in 1925. He was the major contributor to the society's first publication in 1926.

Since that time he remained an active director, contributing material for the publications right up to the time of his death. Mr. Buckland's collection over many years of Indian relics, stuffed animals and birds, coins and other items of historical value were the nucleus of the present Okanagan Museum, now situated at the foot of Bernard Avenue.

Having copyrighted his "Okanagan's Vigil" in 1948, he offered it to the historical society for publication, which is expected to be undertaken at some future date.

Ald. Parkinson acting-mayor

City Council Monday night formally appointed Ald. R. F. Parkinson as acting mayor during the absence of Mayor Jack Ladd. His Worship leaves Kelowna today to attend the annual convention in Montreal of the Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities from September 20-24.

John Smith head horticulturist; R. P. Murray moved to Victoria

Changes in personnel in the B.C. Department of Agriculture, affecting Kelowna and the Okanagan, were officially announced this week. R. P. Murray, former supervising horticulturist here, has been transferred to Victoria where he has become provincial horticulturist, succeeding another well-known former Kelowna man, Ben Hoy. Mr. Hoy has retired, but is understood to be planning to return to Kelowna in a short time.

John Smith of Kelowna, former district horticulturist, now is the supervising horticulturist for the entire Okanagan, having served nearly all the time in the valley since he joined the department shortly after his graduation in 1938 from the Ontario Agricultural College.

Mr. Smith had been district horticulturist since 1948.

STEPPING STONE

Mr. Murray, the former supervisor here, has been with the B.C. agriculture department for over 30 years. Most of that time was spent in Penticton. He came to Kelowna about a year ago.

In the case of the last two provincial horticulturists, Kelowna has proved to be the final stepping stone before they reached the top. Mr. Hoy served here for a number of years before being promoted to head the branch at Victoria.

When Mr. Hoy retired, he had completed nearly 45 years in the service of the horticulture branch of the agriculture department.

At Monday night's City Council meeting, Mr. Murray's resignation from the parks board was accepted with regret. In paying tribute to his work, Ald. Parkinson, head of the parks board, said certain suggestions made by Mr. Murray are included in their long-range plans.

Jet crash takes life of local woman's nephew

An RCAF jet pilot killed when a Chatham, N.B.-based plane crashed early this week has been identified as the nephew of a local resident.

Killed was FO Stewart Ira Banks, 24, son of the sister of Mrs. George Thompson, 1889 Abbott Street, Kelowna. His home is in Conway, P.E.I. The aircraft hit a mountain top en route to a landing strip east of Carleton Place, Ont. Banks' body was found strapped to the seat, 500 feet from the wreckage.

The victim has a brother in the RCAF and another was killed during World War II.

25-year badges presented to four legionnaires

Ten new members were initiated and four long-time members presented with their 25-year badges at Tuesday's monthly meeting of the Kelowna branch of the Canadian Legion.

Jack Potthecary of Armstrong, North Okanagan zone, commander, presented the 25-year badges to Dr. Stan Underhill, Harold Bourke and Branch President P. F. Hilborn. The fourth awardee, J. E. C. Nash, was unable to be present personally to receive his badge.

Initiated were: S. A. Swift, L. Larson, J. F. Jenkins, W. C. Mooney, J. H. Patch, Madge F. Crichton, J. N. Wemp, Dr. J. H. Moir, P. N. Avender and G. J. Sperle.

The meeting, with nearly 100 in attendance, discussed plans for a special evening of entertainment, a week from Friday, for members and their ladies and also the method of conducting elections.

Officiating over the initiation ceremony was Rev. R. S. Leitch, Branch padre, assisted by Branch President Hilborn, Jack Bews, Hugh Balfour, Jack Hay and Don White, secretary-manager.

Residents report black widow finds

Display in the Courier office of a captured black widow spider has made residents conscious of these deadly insects and brought forth reports that show they are fairly common this year, more so than at first believed.

Latest report of a Black Widow find came from Don Day, who caught one in his bathroom at his home on Buckland Avenue Tuesday night. T. S. Pittendrigh, Park Avenue, reported finding one in the woodshed.

Mr. and Mrs. Wen Silbernagel told the Courier they found one at their home on Glenwood Avenue last year.

NO CAUSE FOR ALARM

Persons need not be alarmed. The spider's first action when disturbed is to run away and try to hide. They bite only upon extreme provocation.

The specimen held in a glass jar in the Courier for over two weeks was dispatched after it lost portions of the two hind legs in a death struggle with a yellowjacket. They both lost, in the end.

CLAIMS FEE TOO HIGH

Following a complaint from a local piano tuner that trade licence fees for his category are too high, City Council Monday night, most of the time was spent in discussion, to discuss the complaint in committee.

Graveside service for Sinclair baby

Funeral service was held at the graveside in the Kelowna cemetery Monday for Durlene Elizabeth Sinclair, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sinclair of Prince Albert. The six-month-old girl died in hospital here Saturday from causes still uncertain.

Besides her parents, she is survived by two brothers, Arnold, 4, and Andrew, 2, and her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Rodenick, where the Sinclairs were visiting at the time of the child's illness and death. Arrangements were entrusted to Kelowna Funeral Directors.

A revolutionary moose season was promised by Game Commissioner James Cunningham at a B.C. Interior Fish and Game Association meeting here that passed an important resolution that will likely result in delay, at least, or complete abandonment of a plan to introduce grey (lake) trout in Okanagan Lake.

In addressing the meeting of the advisory committee, called to discuss many important matters pertaining to fish and game in the Interior, Mr. Cunningham said there would be a new season on moose in some areas south of the CPR mainline in the Kamloops area. It would extend from two weeks to a month.

Once such a season becomes effective, it will be, according to local sportsmen, the first time since game laws became operative that moose have been legal targets so far south. The dates and areas will be announced later. Mr. Cunningham said.

He also expressed the opinion that there is little likelihood of any open season on deer in the Okanagan this year. When the game regulations were printed for the current season, it was stated that: "It is possible, that, in some sections of the Eastern District, open seasons will be declared later on in respect to the hunting of doe deer."

LENGTHY DEBATE

A long debate over the proposed introduction by the game department of lake trout in Okanagan Lake resulted in the following resolution:

"In view of the different opinions of the representatives of the clubs adjacent to Okanagan Lake and the waters tributary thereto, we request that no steps be taken to introduce grey trout into these waters until a further investigation into the matter of the relationship between rainbow trout and the grey trout, and further, that the biologists find out by correspondence if any experiment of this kind has been tried out in the lakes in the United States immediately south of British Columbia.

"We further suggest that as the stocking program of Okanagan Lake from the Summerland Hatchery with rainbow trout gives promise of great success, that nothing be done that would interfere with this work."

The grey trout plan was mooted by correspondence with the B.C. Fish and Game Commission.

Tentative dates for the 1954 Interior convention were set for April 4 and 5, at Revelstoke. Also endorsed was having the "Game and Fish" magazine as the official organ of organized sportsmen in B.C.

"Operation garbage can" planned in try to keep city disease-free

Aimed at preserving Kelowna's fine disease-free record, a continuance of the fly spraying program has been ordered by City Council Monday night. Authority was given by council to spend up to $100 more for fly spray.

Targets of special attention in more ways than one will be garbage cans in the city and the city's disposal grounds near the junction of Richter and the KLO road.

A "get tough" policy is under consideration for householders who have no covers for their garbage cans and who persist in being careless with their wet garbage.

"DEPLORABLE" STATE

Majority of garbage cans, when emptied by city employees, are in a "deplorable" state at this time, City Engineer George Meekling told City Council Monday night. Most of this is due to householders tossing wet garbage freely into the cans.

City by-laws prohibit this practice. All wet garbage should be well wrapped up in plastic of paper and tied so that flies cannot get at it.

STICKERS ON CANS

Under consideration is a plan to apply stickers on garbage cans at homes where flagrant violations occur. The stickers will point out the proper way to dispose of garbage in the cans and urge their co-operation to keep the flies under control and thereby avert serious disease.

Main source of concern at the disposal grounds at this time of the year, when there is so much wet garbage due to canning and preserving, is the practice of dumping refuse all over the lot instead of in the trenches provided for the purpose.

Signs have been posted all around at the grounds, urging persons leaving garbage to dump their containers in the ditches, gouged out by a bulldozer, so that the fly-attracting garbage can be covered over.

GOLDEN, B.C.—Construction of the Trans-Canada Highway from here to Field, 38 miles away near the continental divide, is expected to take two years, and progress can be measured in pounds of blasting powder.

The road, when completed, will wind through the treacherous but picturesque Kicking Horse country, through Yoho National Park in the Rocky Mountains.

The road will equal the engineering wonder that takes the Canadian Pacific Railway track through the mountainous area. The highway is being blasted out of the sides of the steep slopes, about 500 to 1,000 feet above the white waters of the Kicking Horse river.

Below the road is the railway. The old road, 24 feet wide, pre-dated, of course, the rock and dirt sent many a problem when a that is blasted from the side of the mountain met a car coming in the opposite direction. The new road, the side and onto the roadbed. It follows the old one, will be must be hauled to safer spots.

It takes a pound of powder to blast every yard of rock. The blast is very in effectiveness and it is estimated that the job will mean removal of 500,000 yards of rock and an equal amount of dirt.

The job was started this spring and already considerable progress has been made. About 10 miles have been paved.

There have been many slides, but none so far of a too serious nature. For the protection of the workers—mostly hardrock miners—two first aid stations are maintained along the route and an ambulance continually patrols the road.

Five adults fined, 56 youths warned for molesting spawning kikininnies

The annual Mission Creek Kokanee run started last week and for a while it was debatable whether there were more kikininnies in the creek or more unlawful "snatchers" on the banks.

A big crackdown by the game warden resulted in several "catches" of a different kind and as the result of this and frequent patrols the spawning Kokanee are being left pretty well alone at the present time.

No less than 58 names of boys caught catching or molesting the Kokanee in Mission Creek were taken down, followed by a severe warning from Game Warden Don Ellis. In addition five adults were "pinched," subsequently appearing in court where they were fined amounts ranging from $5 to $12, plus $2 costs.

Biggest concentration of Kokanee has been at the irrigation dam about a half-mile up from the KLO bridge, beyond which the Kokanee are no longer able to go. Many of the die-hard fish have skinned noses to prove it, bashing themselves against the cement wall more than once.

NO FISH LADDER

When the dam was built a couple of years ago, provision was to have been made for a fish ladder for spawning Kokanee. However, little, if anything, has been done about the ladder and many sportsmen are claiming the Kokanee are gradually disappearing from the lake.

They cite the large size of some of these land-locked salmon that have been caught of late. They run from two to four pounds, sometimes, an unnatural growth for this type of fish.

Some spawning has occurred from the dam downstream but sportsmen maintain the number of eggs are being laid as heretofore and many of those that are being destroyed.

NO MILL CREEK RUN

Another indication that Kokanee are declining is the fact that there has been no Mill Creek run this year. Game Warden Ellis says the Mill Creek run usually comes at the same time as that up Mission Creek. The lake, in the gravel areas around Carr's Landing and Okanagan Centre, should be starting in less than a week's time and will be watched carefully.

The Fisheries Act, a federal statute, provided for a fine not exceeding $1,000, in default not exceeding 12 months imprisonment, or both, for anyone who is convicted of molesting, snatching, shooting or in any manner whatsoever molesting Kokanee ascending any stream to spawn.

Fined $12 and costs last week for catching Kokanee in Mission Creek

Set renewal deadline for puck ducats

A word of advice was submitted by the Kelowna Senior Hockey Association today for holders of season tickets last season.

The demand for season tickets since they went on sale last week has been brisk, officials said, and already sales are 100 over what they were at the same period a year ago. Previous season ticket holders have first choice on the seats they held last year.

The main point the club directors want to put across is that season ticket holders of the previous season must pick up their new tickets by October 1. After that date, the seats will be thrown open for sale to the first comers.

On the season ticket rate, seats, including the pick of the house, cost $1 a game. Purchases may be made outright for the 32 home games or on a quarterly basis.

On a game to game cash basis, seats in Sections 3, 4 and 5 will cost $1.25; seats in all other sections go for $1. Students will have a section set aside for 50 seats and the same applies for children (under 12), at a fee of 25 cents.

SPECIAL SECTIONS

INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT

Kamloops, the stronghold of the cage game last season, has taken the lead in re-forming its ranks for the coming campaign. Among the plans formulated in the mainline city is one to hold an invitational tournament early in the season. (Kamloops last season won the Interior championship in six divisions and the B.C. title in senior "B" men's and senior "B" women's.)

Delegates to the meeting praised the value of the insurance scheme inaugurated two years ago and whereby for a 50-cent registration fee each young player is compensated up to $50 for doctor's bills and injury incurred while playing or practising. Senior players receive the same benefit for a mutual aid fee of $1.

SOFTBALL OVER

Legion Cup goes to Thirteeners

The recent winning of the Legion Cup by Club 13 hauled down the curtain on softball activities for the year.

The Clubmen gained the city and district league championship in a neck-and-neck series against Rutland. The second round was an exciting, hard-fought game, the first game being before Club 13 won and the third all square going into the last of the ninth.

A two-run homer by Pete Weninger in the last of the ninth, broke up the third game and concluded the series, Club 13 taking the cup on two wins and a tie.

The silver cup, donated by Elmer of Vancouver, for a Kelowna lady bowler, was won by Mrs. Ted Adkins.

Pickering reaches golf club final

One finalist in the lengthy competition to declare a golf club champion emerged this week. He is former champion Trev Pickering who turned back Percy Downton 2 and 1 in the semi-final.

The other semi-final still has to be played. In it are ex-Vancouver insurance agent Dave Dale against Monk Steele. They will probably play off this week-end.

FOR MORE SPORT SEE PAGE EIGHT, SECOND SECTION.

LADIES' GOLF

Interior tourney comes off Sunday

Sixteen members, at least, of the Kelowna Ladies' Golf Club will be competing at Penticton this week-end, seeking the Interior championship. Also on the block is the Canadian Ladies' Golf Union handicup cup.

With several matches in the club championship yet to be played, there will be no weekly competition for this coming Tuesday.

In the Hunt Cup qualifying round off at the Glenmore links Tuesday, the low gross was carded by Mrs. A. S. Underhill. Miss Jeanette Reekie topped the honors over the nine-hole route.

Cage leagues begin around November 1

Two men's leagues and one women's league are expected to operate under the Interior Basketball Association's banner this coming season, according to information gathered at the annual IBA meeting at Vernon Sunday.

League play is expected to get under way around November 1.

The men's leagues will be senior "B" and senior "C" depending on the size (population) of the city the team represents. Places of 1,500 population and under are in senior "C."

Chief concern at the meeting was the youth division of both boys and girls and contemplated is extension of the divisions already offered from the IBA in the B.C. playoffs.

BOXLA FINAL BEGINS FRIDAY; THIRD GAME MONDAY, IF NEEDED

Apart from the evils of a long layoff, the Kelowna Bruins will be in fine fettle for the final barrier that stands between them and their second B.C. championship in three years when they host the Foul Bay seven of Victoria tomorrow night.

Coach Lou Ramponi put his charges through a stiff workout Tuesday night and again last night in preparation for what has all the earmarks of their stiffest test yet. The Islanders are the same team that lost out by a narrow margin to Vernon in the final last year and apart from a few who joined the Victoria Shamrocks, now fighting it out with Peterborough, Ont., for the Canadian senior crown, they are the same squad that applied for a senior "A" ranking early this season.

Their request was turned down by the Inter-city league because it was felt one Victoria entry was enough for boxla patrons there to support.

The best-of-three final goes at 9:00 p.m. Friday and Saturday. If a third game is necessary it will come off Monday at 9:00 p.m.

If a third game is required it will postpone by another day, the opening of the Packers' training camp, which now depends strictly upon when ice will be available. Tentatively eyed is next Wednesday, if crews can lift the floor Sunday, or Thursday, if arena workmen have to wait until Monday night.

BEG trials may be held on The City Park track

"KART's greatest weakness is within." So reiterated chairman Bill Robson at a meeting of the Kelowna Athletic Round Table Tuesday night. It was imperative, he warned, that participating athletes who benefit from KART's liberal assistance each year must assist the two or three members who have had to do all the work in the past.

Recreational director Jim Pantone concurred. A review of KART activities showed that the last Banquet of Champions resulted in a loss of $89.16; the Little League, spark-plugged by Frank Pitt, was very successful; the Pony League, under Howard Hardie's leadership, was also a splendid effort, although poor sportsmanship and profanity by a few misguided youths marred it to some extent. It was recommended that adult supervision be a prime necessity.

Jim Pantone lauded the city parks crew and city engineer George Meckling for improving The City Park oval track, and putting a cement curbing around the grassed area. "On hand to hear the praise was Acting Mayor R. F. Parkinson."

WIND UP AT OVAL

More reports showed that KART appreciated Community Chest assistance. It cost $72 for the use of the KHS gymnasium last winter and KART now owns three basketballs. Total profit on the track meet, starring B.C. athletes Bill Parnell, Alice Folz, and others who won at the Nationals in Toronto, was $29.09.

Bruce Humber, Canada's Olympic coach, was high in his praise of the meet and there is a possibility that the Kelowna track may be used next year for an important meet designed to select B.C.'s BEG representatives. Should Kelowna be favored, events such as hurdles, javelin, hammer, etc., would have to be included. It is possible that meets in Vernon and Penticton would also be held, with the big KART track meet in Kelowna as a finale in July.

EQUIPMENT A MENACE

Tribute was paid to Miss Doreen Stark for the recreational work she carried out at Osprey, Sutherland, and The City Park during the summer. Number of sessions held, total attendance, and average attendance, at the three parks was as follows: Osprey, 14-20-23; Sutherland, 22-35-16; City, 35-44-24. Picnics were also enjoyed as well as participation at weekly aquacades, plus drawing instruction and soap carving.

However, criticism of the condition of the wading pool at Osprey Park was also levelled. It was considered unsanitary, surrounded by weeds. It was also claimed that an obviously rotting post at the swings was a definite hazard, and that teeter-totters were in need of repair.

The whirling teeter-totter was termed a "menace." Recommendations were given to the city at the first of the year. It was stated, Chief problem at Sutherland Park were brash teen-agers who sought to annoy.

Total cost for Miss Stark's services, who worked hard and wholly on her own, was $314.65.

BANQUET IN NOVEMBER

Mrs. T. F. McWilliams spoke briefly to the smug attendance reminding them that the forthcoming Community Chest drive covered 15 drives in one for a period of one year.

Four bucks shot on opening day

Opening day of the hunting season was mediocre according to reports from many gun-toters who went out Tuesday after grouse and deer.

The opening day's deer toll was four. Grouse were reported to be more scarce than at first believed and only a few nimrods secured their limit for the day.

The elk season also opened hereabouts Tuesday but none was reported shot—or even seen.

Next on the open list are California quail, season for which opens October 1. Daily bag limit is 10; seasonal, 30.

Orioles have Okonots with backs to wall

The pressure will be on Kamloops Okonots Sunday when they complete their best-of-three Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League semi-final at home to the Kelowna Orioles.

Orioles are in the driver's seat by virtue of their 12-8 victory here last Sunday. If the Oks tie up the series in the first game, a third and deciding game will follow immediately.

This game (or games) is the only diamond activity of note on the Interior scene this week-end.

A WORD ABOUT DELIVERIES One of the many services provided by The KSM for the benefit of its customers is free delivery of lumber and building materials within city limits and vicinity. Under normal operating conditions, orders received one day will be delivered the next. Unlike small commodities, lumber and building supplies are generally bulky and require considerable time to load, deliver, and unload; they cannot be delivered on short notice as small packaged items could be. Our system of delivery is to load as many orders as possible for delivery along a certain route or area. It is not economical to run a three-ton truck a long distance for one small order, but the same small order can be accommodated when combined with a number of other orders in the same area. We therefore request your co-operation by ordering your materials in sufficient time to be included with our regular daily deliveries.

PICK-UPS: A charge will be made for pick-up and return of lumber and building materials, except under special circumstances. ALL GOODS RETURNED FOR CREDIT MUST BE ACCOMPANIED BY THE ORIGINAL SALES INVOICE.

Occupational centre urgently required for district's handicapped children

An urgent appeal for an occupational centre for mentally handicapped children was made last night at a public meeting, by R. C. Gore, newly elected president of the Kelowna and District Society for the Mentally Handicapped.

At the meeting held in the Community Health Centre, it was decided to approach the Community Chest at their regular meeting Thursday with a view to obtaining funds.

These funds would be used to provide a specially-trained teacher and a classroom for the handicapped children of the district.

In his address Mr. Gore stressed the fact that the problem of these children is a community one, and not simply a matter of a mother's auxiliary.

He also pointed out that if a desirable location can be found, it should be called an "occupational centre" rather than a "school" as these children "have the idea, a school is for reading and writing, things they know they cannot do."

"Our group has made a tour of this city," he continued, "but could not find any suitable building."

"What we want is somewhere with a small kitchen where we can provide lunch for those from outlying districts, and a garden for playtime as these children are unable to study for too long a period at a time. It need not be an elaborate set-up."

Executive elected at the meeting included: R. C. Gore, president; Mrs. H. B. Simpson, vice-president; Mrs. W. Buss, secretary. Directors are: Mrs. T. F. McWilliams, education; Mrs. J. Tremblay, service clubs; Mrs. Freda Woodhouse, Committee members are: Mrs. Van Ackeren, Mrs. W. McLean, Westbank; Mrs. C. O. Whinton, Peachland; D. H. Campbell, Rutland; Mrs. E. P. Bailey, East Kelowna; Mrs. K. Young, Okanagan Mission; Capt. Harriet Asker and Mrs. W. O. Clarke.

Bridal pair honeymoon in south after ceremony at First United Church

GRAYSTON-MARSHALL

A pretty wedding was solemnized Sept. 5 at First United Church when Maureen Winnifred Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Marshall, Rowcliffe Road, became the bride of Raymond Donald Grayston, son of Mr. F. Grayston, Steveston, B.C.

Rev. R. S. Leitch officiated at the ceremony.

The lovely bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a ballerina length gown of chantilly lace over nylon net and taffeta. She wore a finger-tip tulle veil and carried a bouquet of red roses and stephanotis.

The bride's attendants, Mrs. Jack Lomax as matron of honor, and Miss Nina Porter, bridesmaid, chose similarly styled gowns in pastel green and mauve. Mrs. Lomax carried mauve gladioli and Miss Porter carried a bouquet of yellow blooms.

Mr. Dave McKay was best man and ushers were Mr. Ed Boyd, Mr. Bernie Stone.

SIGN REGISTER

Mr. Ernie Burnett sang "Because" during the signing of the register. The mother of the bride assisted in receiving 45 guests at a reception held at the Willow Inn and for the occasion chose a taupe colored model with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mr. W. H. Fleck proposed the toast to the bride.

Presiding at the urns were Mrs. W. Sands, Mrs. H. Snowsall, Mrs. Ed Boyd, Mrs. L. Robertson and Mrs. L. Thorpe. Servers were Mrs. T. Dorie, Mrs. S. Close, Miss Lorne Forsyth.

For a honeymoon in the south the bride chose a grey suit with pink and grey accessories and wore a mauve orchid corsage.

On their return to Kelowna, the newlyweds will reside at 1974 McDougall Avenue.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Grayston and Linda, and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Grayston all of Steveston; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Dorie of Kamloops; Mr. and Mrs. B. Valair of Vernon; Mr. and Mrs. May Roberts of Chilliwack; Miss Lorna Forsyth, Mr. Gordon Armour, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sands, Miss Nina Porter and Mr. Gordon Inglehart all of Victoria; Mr. and Mrs. B. Doerksen, Mr. and Mrs. B. Phinney all of Penticton; Mr. Dave McKay of Union Bay; Mrs. Lee Foster of San Francisco and Mrs. W. Sands of Vancouver.

FROM VICTORIA . . . Mr. and Mrs. W. Bendall, Victoria, are visiting relatives and friends in Kelowna for three weeks. Other visitors from Victoria are Mr. and Mrs. J. Merriman who are staying with Mrs. Merriman's mother, Mrs. P. J. O'Neill, Long Street.

Speed money safely through the mail

Most of us want to send money through the mail at some time or other. Maybe it's to pay for goods ordered from an out-of-town firm. Or perhaps it's to celebrate the birthday of a close relative. Whatever the reason, a Bank of Montreal Money Order is the safe, sure way to get your money to its destination without delay and without cost to the recipient.

B of M Money Orders can be purchased for sums up to one hundred dollars. For larger sums, a B of M draft is the best answer. And if you are in a real hurry to get your funds despatched, the B of M special telegraphic and cable transfer system can be used.

So next time you want to forward money—anywhere in the world—see the Kelowna branch of the Bank of Montreal. It's a word with Jim Beckerleg, the accountant. He will be pleased to show you how money can be transferred this easy, low-cost way. Residents of Westbank and District will find Carlo Hansen, manager of Westbank branch, ready to assist at any time.

"School report cards no longer"—Ralston
VICTORIA—Parents who have complained that they cannot understand British Columbia school report cards have been promised that interpretation will accompany the cards in future.

Education Minister Tilly Ralston said notes with the cards will tell parents how to unscramble the "hieroglyphics" and to learn how their children are doing.

"Present report cards are confusing," she said. Education officials have shied away from giving set marks for grades because they do not believe in pinning labels—such as "dumb"—on children. The present system grades a child's progress according to his native ability and environment.

Mrs. Ralston said that in the next year she hopes to revise the curriculum committee to strike a balance between liberal and practical education in the province.

Plan for a lovelier Spring now!

More dollars will be spent controlling Penticton creek

PENTICTON—Thousands more dollars are to be poured into the voracious maw of Penticton Creek this fall.

City Council plans calling for tenders on construction of a reinforced concrete channel, extending from Ellis Street bridge to almost the creek mouth.

This work will be financed by the provincial government which allotted $55,000 for creek work on the lower part of the channel this year. Of this amount about $40,000 is still unspent and part will be devoted to the new channel.

Council approved the plans for the "get it away quick" method prepared by City Engineer Paul and plans call for a 28 foot reinforced concrete channel five feet deep, extending almost from the Ellis Street bridge to the creek mouth to Front Street bridge. The work before inclement weather.

This is a new departure in the many attempts to tame the turbulent creek which ever spring creates anxiety and which on more than one occasion, notably in 1942, spilled its banks and wrought considerable flood havoc. Previously engineers have attempted to slow down the velocity of the rush of water which cascades down the tortuous channel during the spring runoff, creating a flood threat, but the present plans are designed to facilitate the flow.

Plans were prepared by the city engineer in consultation with A. F. Paget, chief engineer of the provincial water rights branch, and a leading authority on hydraulics in British Columbia.

An estimated 800 cubic yards of concrete and 25 tons of reinforcing steel will be required for the job and specifications call for a concrete strength of 3,700 pounds to the square inch at 28 days. This is far higher than required in normal construction work.

The new channel is designed

Canada prepares to deal with disaster

ARTICLE NO. X NATIONAL SECURITY IS UP TO YOU

Since a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, Canadian authorities responsible for the country's capacity to deal with mass disaster realize that their plans can be no more effective than the smallest unit in the civil defence services.

Thus, as the civil defence services are civilian agencies, made up of the men and women of the country, officials point out that the success or failure of efforts to minimize the toll of such calamity as could come from enemy attack on Canada would rest with the average citizen.

These and other pertinent points are brought out in the informational material which has been issued by the Department of National Health and Welfare, co-ordinating civil defence preparedness measures, in an effort to enlist the active support of Canadians everywhere. Only with total popular support, officials realize, can they hope to provide the country with services capable of sustaining her economy and capacity in a national emergency.

HOW TO HELP
The office of the Federal Civil Defence Division point out that of course, everyone can't be an auxiliary policeman or help fight fires. Indeed, an enemy's objective would be achieved if it could involve the whole population in such purely defensive activities. Some of the people, they realize, must "keep the home fires burning," keep the wheels of industry turning, keep the fighters fed, housed, tended and supplied with tools for their tasks.

The ordinary citizen, it is urged, can help simply by "Carrying-on" under adversity, by looking after himself or herself during and after disaster, and by lending a hand to those who need it, whether that call is for extra weight on a fire line or simply a word of comfort and encouragement when it is most needed.

Self-help is indicated as the key-note of Canada's program for survival under such disaster as enemy attack. The more people who can solve their own post-raid problems, says Ottawa, the more the organized services can turn to aid those with more than they can handle themselves.

Preparation for emergency is important. Provision of shelter for the family is essential.

Those whose jobs wouldn't be urgently needed, in time of emergency, are asked to see to it that they have a place arranged for them in one of the disaster services, that they train NOW to be ready to give it their all, if required. Workers in essential industries will serve best by continuing at their jobs, particularly those which relate to the support of the fighting and civil defence forces.

Even residents in sparsely-settled areas should be ready and willing to help, for they may be called upon to house and care for people from less fortunate localities and, even, to go with their neighbors to the aid of stricken communities, to lend a hand.

KEEP INFORMED
Gen. F. P. Worthington, federal Civil Defence Co-ordinator, has this to say, too. "Most of all, in this changing world, with its day-to-day developments of major import, the citizen-in-the-street can help simply by keeping informed. Knowing what to do may mean the difference between life and death, if disaster strikes."

"Nothing breeds fear and impotence like ignorance and false information. The informed person is a tower of strength to all about him. He is the buffer against idle rumor which, in turn, can lead to unreasoned, uninformed despair and even panic."

that wise Canadians are learning all that it is possible to pick up about measures for protection of their homes, having long understood the importance of health measures to prevent disease, of caution to avoid accident and of building solidly for permanence.

"Today," he said, "things being as they are, Canadians must broaden their outlook to face up to new threats to their security. They must be not only willing but READY to stand on guard for Canada."

Officials emphasize that preparedness, like charity, begins at home; that Canada is only as safe as the Canadian family. Canada's preparedness program, they say, will be only as effective as her citizens who serve in, and stand beside, the civil defence services.

South Kelowna

SOUTH KELOWNA—Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Smith were Mrs. Lola Baker and her son Ashfield, and Mrs. Pearce, of Tacoma, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson of Alameda, California.

Honeymooners Mr. and Mrs. Jan van Weylen of Vancouver spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Frits Verkerk recently.

Mrs. Jan de Winter is a patient in the hospital.

Mrs. May Green of Alameda, Calif., was a guest at the home of her cousin, Mr. Stewart Smith.

School re-opened last week with seven new pupils and a new teacher, Mrs. Dorn. On Friday the ladies of the P.T.A. held a welcome tea to enable parents to meet the new teacher. This was attended by about 25 parents and friends. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Walter Hill, Mrs. T. Beasley, Mrs. E. Field, Mrs. J. R. Hardy and others.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Casorso spent a recent week-end in Prince George.

Miss Isabel Hewlett spent last week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Hewlett, and returned to her job at Essendale Sunday.

John Duyvewaardt returned to Vancouver after spending a week in guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Taylor.

Impaired driver draws jail term

A 14-day jail term was imposed in district police court recently when a local youth, Crist Ben Plotz, pleaded guilty to a second offence charge of driving while his ability was impaired by the use of alcohol. (This sentence is mandatory upon conviction for a second offence.)

On an additional charge of driving while his licence was under suspension, Plotz was fined $75 and $5 costs by Stipendiary Magistrate A. D. Marshall, or in default one month's imprisonment, consecutive to the 14 days. The fine was paid.

FAILED TO ALLOW VEHICLE HALF OF THE ROAD

Sequel to a minor collision in the rural district came in district police court recently when two drivers pleaded guilty to failing to allow an approaching vehicle half of the road. He is the latter against idle rumor which, in turn, can lead to unreasoned, uninformed despair and even panic."

General Worthington pointed out A. D. Marshall.

New president

W. J. Borrie, Vancouver, just elected president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce at the national business organization's annual meeting in Edmonton. Mr. Borrie is president of Pemberton Securities Limited, Vancouver, and director of a number of companies. During the past year he has served as first national vice-president of the C.C. of C. director of the Pacific National Exhibition, vice-president of the Pacific Northwest Trade Association.

Noted lecturer will address Canadian Club

An outstanding speaker and personality, Donald Grant, M.A., will address the Canadian Club next Thursday at 6.30 p.m. in the Anglican Parish Hall on "Danger Spots and Growing Points in the Modern World."

Mr. Grant, a Highland Scot and graduate of Edinburgh University, is a noted interpreter of Britain and Europe in the U.S. and as such has influenced students in Britain and America over the last 20 years. As lecturer and historian he has been honored by many universities; among them he has received the gold medals of Vienna and Innsbruck Universities following World War I.

He lectured during World War II for the British Ministry of Information and following the war at the invitation of the U.S. military government, worked for them in Germany in an advisory capacity. Reservations for the meeting may be made by phoning Miss I. Jackson at 6804 or F. Bunce at 6892.

Vernon man heads N.O. underwriters

Annual general meeting of the North Okanagan Life Underwriters' Association resulted in moving of the association's headquarters from Kelowna to Vernon.

Eric Olmstead, C.L.U. of Vernon, was elected president, succeeding Art Jackson, C.L.U. of Kelowna. Other officers elected were: vice-president, W. J. Patterson, C.L.U. Kamloops; secretary, Clifton Reynolds, Vernon; treasurer, C. B. Lang, Kamloops; C. A. McWilliams, Vernon; and William Kane, Kelowna.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Kenneth Thompson, C.L.U. of Vancouver, regional vice-president of the Life Underwriters' Association of Canada. Mr. Thompson presented national quality award certificates to Mr. Jackson (Kelowna) and Mr. Patterson (Kamloops) in recognition of outstanding service to policyholders during the past year.

Early history credit unions is explained

Over 60 people attended a special meeting of the Kelowna and District Credit Union in the Canadian Legion Hall, when a Hollywood production entitled "King's X" impressed all who saw it. The film showed how the King's X had originated in 1786, which meant that when the King put an X on a resident's door, the man in question was declared free of debt for a year.

The theme continued to show how many people applied to credit unions for assistance in these modern times.

R. A. Monruffet, managing editor of the B.C. Credit Union League, answered questions regarding such unions.

W. E. McIntosh, president of the Kelowna and District Credit Union, presided.

Award of merit to Tommy Hill

EDMONTON — Certificates of merit were presented this morning to 20 graduates of the Canadian Institute for board and chamber secretaries by President Lewis W. Simms of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, at the annual CCC meeting here.

Graduates of the Institute, held each spring at McMaster University, Hamilton, now number 90, forming a hard-hitting corps of trained secretaries and community leaders, dedicated to the job of maintaining and developing our Canadian way of life.

Among those presented their certificates of merit were Tom R. Hill, secretary of the Kelowna Board of Trade, and Mrs. E. D. Emerson, secretary of the Prince George Board of Trade. Mr. Hill was unable to be present to receive the award personally.

Grandson of local couple awarded scholarship

The American Field Service International Scholarship has a unique origin in that it grew from a volunteer ambulance service which began in 1914, carrying thousands of wounded with the Allied armies, in both World War I and II. The men, of many nationalities and beliefs, bore the idea of carrying on a peace-time program which would further the basic friendships which existed among the various countries and created a scholarship for high school students to study in foreign countries in an endeavor to create better international fellowship.

This year, five students from New Zealand, received the scholarship. One girl from the south island and three girls from the north island, will be studying with one boy at Barren Senior High School in Connecticut, N.Y. The boy is John Alexander Crowe, 17-year-old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Crowe, 463 Royal Avenue. He was a student at Christchurch college. All will be living in American homes as well.

A native of Wellington, John Crowe holidayed here for a time with his grandparents prior to leaving for Connecticut last week.

Mossbank visitor dies here at 68

The death occurred in hospital here Friday of Emil Sonstelle, 68, a visitor here from Mossbank, Sask. He had come to Kelowna three months ago to visit his brother, H. E. Sonstelle, 890 Wolsley Ave., and took ill while here.

Remains were forwarded by Day's Funeral Service Ltd. to Mossbank for final rites and burial there. His sister, Mrs. Perkins of Rouleau, Sask., and Mrs. H. E. Sonstelle, sister-in-law, accompanied the remains to Mossbank.

new route is at least under consideration.

GAME OF TAG
Survey crews are working in the box-like Albert Canyon country 70 miles west of Golden. A more direct route between the two points would cut 100 miles from the present 200-mile loop that follows the Columbia river.

It was in the Albert canyon area that the CPR was stymied by the mile-high Mount Macdonald, and first went through Rogers pass, with the roadbed climbing 500 feet in five miles.

In 1916, the CPR eliminated this by boring the five-mile Connaught tunnel through Mount Macdonald. To illustrate highway-building problems in the area, the railway line between Golden and Revelstoke touches the Beaver, Columbia and Illecillewaite rivers and in this game of engineering tag crosses the rivers or their tributaries at least 15 times.

A campaign has been started in the Okanagan to complete the highway from Golden to Revelstoke and to foster a spirit of co-operation between Okanagan Valley communities.

The first step of the campaign will be the organization of a motor cavalcade from Osoyoos to Revelstoke. The first move in this direction was taken at a meeting in Kelowna of members of the Auto Courts and Resorts Association and boards of trade from Vernon, Kelowna and Penticton at the meeting.

One of the results of the meeting was the formation of an Okanagan Valley Tourist Association. The first general meeting of the association is expected to be held in mid-October.

During World War I he operated a cattle ranch at Shingle Creek, west of Penticton, as well as carrying on with his extensive fruit ranch in the Rutland district for many years.

President for a number of years of Morrison Hardware Co., he sold out his interests in 1928. During that time, the company held the agency for Ford cars and tractors, and he was the first one to introduce a tractor in this part of the country.

Next he joined the Highland Fruits Ltd. as president and manager. This firm later was amalgamated with Okanagan Packers.

A charter member and a past president of the local Rotary Club, he represented District 101 at the Rotary International Convention in Nice, France, in 1937. For four years he served on the Kelowna City Council and was a school board trustee for a number of years. He is a former president of the Board of Trade and the Kelowna Hospital Society and was police commissioner in the days before the B.C. Police took over local policing.

He served on the fire brigade for eight years, much of that time on the board of directors. From August, 1917, until the end of that year, he held the position of fire chief.

August construction values jump as school board takes out $30,896 building permit

Topped by a $30,896 building permit issued to School District No. 23 for the construction of administration offices in the vicinity of the senior high school, construction values during the month of August totalled $67,166. Permits were also issued for the construction of three houses at a value of $30,970.

FINED FOR NO LICENCE

A fine of $25, plus $2 costs, was imposed in city police court by Magistrate A. D. Marshall on Lydian Shinnon after pleading guilty to operating a motor vehicle on a highway without a subsisting driver's licence.

Indication that some home-owners are thinking in terms of colder weather was also seen in the number of permits issued for garages and carports. Seven permits were issued for a value of $1,950. The eight-month building figure now stands at $378,466, compared with $398,015 during the corresponding period last year.

Following table shows comparative figures for the past ten years:

Year	Month	Total to date
1953	Aug.	$67,166
1952	Aug.	$74,400
1951	Aug.	$101,307
1950	Aug.	$83,685
1949	Aug.	$133,517
1948	Aug.	$150,857
1947	Aug.	$89,785
1946	Aug.	$131,805
1945	Aug.	$66,300
1944	Aug.	$19,885
1943	Aug.	$7,463

Following is a list of individual permits granted:

PUBLIC BUILDING
School District No. 23, Harvey Avenue, administration building, $30,896.

RESIDENTIAL

Sam Chernoff, 1206 Richter Street, duplex residence, $9,500; H. A. Friesen, 1775 Ethel Street, residence, $10,000; J. Trewhitt, 2243 Doryan Street, residence, $11,470; $30,970.

RESIDENTIAL ADDITIONS AND ALTERATIONS

Mr. G. Johns, 953 Glenn Avenue, alterations, $500; Harold Glenn, 1435 Ethel Street, alterations, $1,800; W. Hillier, 525 Harvey Avenue, alterations, $500. Three permits issued for a value of $2,800.

GARAGES AND CARPORTS

H. C. Moss, 1660 Ethel Street, garage and workshop, $500; C. Ramone, 353 Harvey Avenue, carport, $100; John Butt, 1464 Bertram Street, garage and cooler, $350; W. Y. Fray, 580 Harvey Avenue, carport, $250; Mrs. Anna Bertelg, 2618 Pendozi Street, carport, $150; W. M. Blackey, 2644 Bath Street, garage, $350; H. D. Peters, 685 Broadway, garage, $250. Seven permits issued for a value of $1,950.

SIGNS

C. H. Taylor, 1423A Ellis Street, sign, $100; Treadgold Paint Supply, 1619 Pendozi Street, sign, $450. Two permits issued for a value of $550.

Provincial secretary of citizens' forum addresses meeting

Philip W. Keatley, provincial secretary of Citizens' Forum, the CRC discussion program, addressed a good-sized audience at the Senior High School auditorium Friday evening.

At present on a speaking tour through the interior of B.C., Mr. Keatley's topic concerned the services of the extension department of the University of British Columbia, enlarging particularly on the Forum, in an effort to increase the knowledge and interest of British Columbians in this series.

Mr. Keatley's appearance here was sponsored by the Kelowna P.T.A.

Third annual home show acclaimed as finest yet

Over 4,000 people attended the third annual Home Show, held in Kelowna and District Memorial Arena, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Sponsored jointly by the Kelowna Rotary Club and the Arena Commission, and incorporating a Junior Fall Fair, the event was bigger and better in every way.

A nominal admission charge for adults and children enabled them to see dozens of interesting exhibits, obtain free samples, participate in over 30 drawings for valuable prizes, including a brand new $300 Spin-Dry washer, and see free movies as well.

The new Memorial Room, officially turned over to the city by the Kelowna Kinsmen Club, was the subject of many fine compliments as the interior, drapes and appointments within were closely scrutinized.

A beautiful oil work of Queen Elizabeth, painted by M. A. Van Hoff and presented to Memorial Arena, was also greatly admired inside the entrance to the Memorial Room.

Art Jones' Restless III, B.C. Gold Cup and 100-mile Lake Chelan winner, drew hordes of onlookers.

LUNG ON DISPLAY
The iron lung, recently completed by the Kelowna Kiwanis Club, was also inspected.

National Film Board pictures, shown by the Kelowna Film Council on a revolutionary daytime screen provided by W. R. Trench Ltd., were exceptionally well attended.

On Thursday, the first night, 100 ladies were presented with a bouquet of flowers, given away by the Kelowna Rotary Club through the generosity of donor J. W. Hughes.

The show was well worthwhile insofar as exhibitors were concerned with many transactions concluded. As if to prove the point, a Courier reporter sold a $99.50 dinette suite for one firm, simply by volunteering to phone regarding the price.

Most people were more than a little surprised to see what local firms had to offer in the way of up-to-the-minute merchandise and services.

SAVE THE FORESTS
They saw sewing machines whose dexterity exceeded human hands; paint pouring magically out of cans; an opportunity to win a free trip to Honolulu; night reflecting signs; ornamental shrubs and fruit trees.

REPLICA OF CROWN
A decorated cake and cushion, a carefully made replica of the late Queen Mary's state crown, in full color, made by Mrs. Jean Cox and Mrs. Laurie Rogers, was greatly admired also. Nearby was an English publication (price five shillings), its 178 pages and beautiful gilt cover honoring the coronation.

Chinchillas, displayed by R. H. Brown, T. J. Lacroix and R. J. Marshall, attracted many interested parties.

A private wire teletype, and a control panel with turntables, displayed by CKOV, was also a crowd attractor.

Miniature loaves of bread put out by McGavin Bakeries, were eagerly sought.

Prescription compounding, with a photograph showing Babylonian times, 2,600 B.C., was displayed by Brown's Prescription Pharmacy.

Mary's art oddments, a liquid duplicator, herbal remedies, tea and coffee displays, new fall and winter wearing apparel by Fumerton's Ltd. and a cleaning service, also caught the eye.

HEALTH SERVICES
The South Okanagan Health Unit

exhibit stressed the services rendered by 19 clinics—monthly—in 11 different centres in the area, including child health clinics.

Floor coverings by Flor-Lay; gift wrapping instruction by Ganthast; strongly constructed chrome furniture were also impressive.

Among the exhibitors not previously mentioned were Modern Appliances and electric Ltd.; Treadgold Paint Supply; Scotchlight; Rena-Ware; Kelowna Nurseries; Maple Leaf Sales Ltd.; Wightman Plumbing; Mc & Mc; Reliable Services Interior Ltd.; Interior Industrial Electric; Shaw's Candies; Loane's; Harvey's Cabinet Shop; Roth's Dairy Products; Scott-Bathgate; Gem Furriers; Gellatly Nut Nursery; Burch Ice and Coal Co.; Chinwagger Chinchilla Ranch; NOE Chinchilla Ranch; Woodend Chinchilla Ranch; A. J. Jones Boat Works Propane Gas; Kelowna Electric Ltd.; Wm. Haug & Son; T. Eaton Co. (Western) Ltd.; Bennett's Okanagan Stationers; Health Products; O. L. Jones Furniture Co.; W. H. Malkin Co. Ltd.; Barr & Anderson (Interior) Ltd.; Packer Backers; Okanagan Duraclean Service; J. G. Fraser Ltd., agent Keith Fahney, who decorated many of the booths.

Rev. Archie Gordon begins ministry at First Baptist

On Sunday last Rev. Archie Gordon began his ministry in First Baptist Church, Kelowna. He succeeds Rev. J. J. Smithson who ministered to the congregation there for the past five years and has now taken up a pastorate at Weyburn, Sask.

Following immigration to Canada from Great Britain as a young man Mr. Gordon took degrees in arts and theology at Brandon College and in 1915 went out with his wife under the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board to the Telaga area in southeast India, where he and Mrs. Gordon have recently concluded 40 years' service.

... new pastor

For 30 years of their service term in India the Gordons were what was termed "Evangelistic touring missionaries." In this capacity they moved through what is known as a "mass movement area" where they witnessed thousands of people at a time turning to the Christian faith.

HEADED SEMINARY
Mrs. Gordon was later in charge of a boarding school at Vuyuru and during the last nine years of service in the field Mr. Gordon headed the seminary at Kakinada on the east coast of India. This seminary is affiliated with Serampore University near Calcutta which was founded by William Carey. At the seminary a great many of the theology students were married so that Mrs. Gordon was placed in charge of women's work there while her husband directed the theology course.

An interesting sidelight on the work in India is noted by Mr. and Mrs. Gordon. During the late war Kakinada became an important military, air and naval base for action in Burma and the missionaries found themselves playing host to numerous men of the allied services, who, deprived of normal home life, welcomed the opportunity of fellowship in their home. During a period of three and one-half years no less than 8,000 service men shared meals in their home, a record which would seem to compare with many in organized servicemen's canteen or club.

Oli Daum goes career-searching; Eileen Learoyd new social editor

Affairs of these social pages are now in the hands of Mrs. Eileen Learoyd, the Courier's new social editor. She succeeds Miss Oli Daum, who left Thursday for points east, destination Toronto.

Miss Daum felt that further experience in the newspaper field was available in the east and decided that she should see if she could "crack" the metropolitan field in Toronto. A job in the east, she said, would give her an opportunity of making up her own mind about the much-talked-of "East."

RIFLE HOBBY ... Mrs. Learoyd arrived in Kelowna Monday after having been delayed by a bout of sickness contracted while in Ottawa as a member of the B.C. team in the Canadian Bismarck rifle shoot.

One of the few women in Canada who have a hobby of target shooting, Mrs. Learoyd also has a wealthy background of newspaper work in all its ramifications. Born in Winnipeg, she gained experience there in display advertising before moving to Victoria where she worked several years on the editorial staff of the Victoria Colonist.

She also has done a considerable amount of free lance writing for magazines and some radio script work as well. She is the wife of Robert Eric Learoyd, appointed manager of the Kelowna Mc and Me store a few months ago. They have two small girls.

GIVEN REMEMBRANCES ... Miss Daum was feted at several small gatherings before her departure but one of the most touching moments, according to her, was when she was presented with an engraved compact from "The Eleven." This token of appreciation came from the 1933 Lady-of-the-Lake contestants, most of whom she coached and prepared for the big contest the first night of the Regatta.

A "going away" gift also was presented to her by the Courier staff a few hours before she en-

Rebekah notes

The first meeting of the new season was held Wednesday, September 9. A special feature was a memorial service held in memory of the late Esther Thompson. Intimate friends and relatives as well as Mr. Thompson attended this ceremony held during a recess in the meeting.

The president, Mrs. E. M. Granger, is at present travelling on her official visits to various lodges in the Cariboo and northern points.

Mrs. Gwen Patterson, accompanied by her husband and her mother left Wednesday for Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Larcombe recently returned from a trip to Alberta.

Mrs. Lois Sutherland returned home on Tuesday from the prairies where she attended the funeral of her mother.

Mrs. Taggart's daughter, Mrs. Ferny, who has been in the hospital for the past three months, is improving and may be able to come out shortly.

Western Gentlemen fail to impress

Historic site on Big Bend highway marked by cairn

By DES OSWELL
DISTRICT SCOUTMASTER

A field stone cairn, erected by the Department of Resources and Development to commemorate the historic boat encampment on the Big Bend Highway, British Columbia, was unveiled recently. The cairn, bearing a bronze tablet, has been erected on the recommendation of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board of Canada.

The boat encampment was an important point of trans-shipment in the fur-trading days of British Columbia. Here boats from Fort Vancouver (now Vancouver, Washington) on the lower Columbia River, waited for the pack trains coming over the mountains from Jasper House.

THOMPSON VISIT

First visited by the explorer, David Thompson, in 1811, it served for almost half a century as a meeting place for the fur brigades of the North West Company and later, of the Hudson's Bay Company, by-passed by the railroads. This historic spot was made accessible to visitors by completion of the Big Bend Highway in June, 1940.

The cairn has been placed some two miles from the original site to make it more readily available to the public. It is located where the Big Bend Highway crosses the Columbia River about two miles from where the Canoe River runs into the Columbia.

The cairn, which stands near the Boat Encampment Lodge, was unveiled under the auspices of the Board of Trade of Golden. Among those present were Louis Berger, owner and manager of the Boat Encampment Lodge, who donated the site for the monument, and R.

J. J. Steeves, superintendent of Yoho, Glacier and Mount Revelstoke National Parks. Dr. W. N. Sage, British Columbia member of the Historic Sites and Monuments Board, represented the Department of Resources and Development and the board at the ceremony.

Oyama rancher scores heavily at stock fair

V. E. Ellison's string of eleven cattle from his Oyama ranch in the Okanagan made an exceptional showing among the Herefords in the livestock show of the Pacific National Exhibition, Vancouver, which closed Labor Day.

Leading off with Kalwood Royal Domino 30F, the Okanagan rancher took the senior champion ribbon and that for Grand Champion Hereford bull of the show. Just prior to the fair, Ellison is reported to have sold the bull to Len Johnson, of Hefley Creek, near Kamloops, with Johnson to take over after the Armstrong Fair later this month.

Ellison also took the Reserve Senior Championship with Kalwood Royal Belle 8E and the Junior Championship with Kalwood Royal Belle 9C. His senior heifer calf, Kalwood Royal Belle 61G brought him the Reserve Junior Championship and Kalwood Miss Real 6H was the best junior heifer calf.

Top honors in the Breeders Herd event came when he used the Grand Champion, the junior champion, reserve junior champion and first junior heifer calf. The same three females took the honors for the best three females to be bred and owned by the exhibitor.

The Grand Champion bull and its half-brother, Kalwood Royal Domino 4G, teamed to win the top award for two bulls any age.

Customs show big increase in traffic

During the first six-months of the 24-hour customs service, 6,462 vehicles have crossed the border at Osoyoos between midnight and 5:00 a.m., according to D. P. Simpson, collector of customs at that port.

The 24-hour customs service commenced at Osoyoos on March 2 and that month 503 vehicles crossed during the night hours. In April the number jumped to 733 and in August to 961. June showed 1,061 served and July 1,626 with August jumping to 1,896.

Over the six-month period daily average of 35 vehicles crossed the border during the night hours. It is anticipated that this figure will be increased as the fact that a 24-hour service is available becomes more widely known. This, like all other traffic figures, will tend to grow, although some recession is to be expected during the winter months.

Man pays fine over $100 after pleading guilty to two charges

Two charges laid under the Highway Act and its regulations resulted in fines totalling more than $100 being assessed against William Howard Spencer in city police court.

Spencer pleaded guilty to driving a motor vehicle while his ability was impaired by the use of alcohol and was fined $60 and $150 costs. Magistrate A. D. Marshall imposed a fine of $50 and $1 costs when Spencer pleaded guilty to driving on a highway while his licence to drive was under suspension. Spencer was given until September 13 to pay the latter fine, or in default serve 14 days imprisonment.

Brother of local woman records B.C. impressions

A. H. Burt, of Stratford, Ontario, who this summer spent several days visiting his sister, Mrs. Bert Dickens, Pendozi Street, on his return home recorded his impressions of the west for the Stratford Beacon-Herald as follows:

Sir,—Your readers may find interesting a few facts about Kelowna, B.C., where I visited my sister, whom I had not seen for 43 years.

Of course, before reaching Kelowna, I had to go through the Rockies, which I had never seen. It was sure a lovely sight, not easily forgotten. The mountains are beautiful, with the snow all over the summits—Mount Robson being the highest, then Edith Cavell and Old Baldy. Then into Jasper—and if you've got lots of money, which I didn't have, spend a couple of weeks at Jasper Park Lodge, a lovely spot!

Kelowna is a very lovely little city, situated in a beautiful Okanagan Valley. The lake, which is 90 miles long and two miles wide in places, is surrounded by lovely park areas, and there is a good sandy beach for swimming. The chief income comes from fruit farms and sawmills.

I went into a place called Summerland, going by bus and over the ferry, and also to Penticton. This whole area is nothing but acres by the thousand of all kinds of fruit—truly a lovely spot, surrounded by mountains and beautiful Lake Okanagan.

When I reached Kelowna, the regatta was on, and I saw in action swimmers from the United States and British Columbia, and a diver of note, Dr. Sam Lee, a world champion on two occasions.

I motored up to Vancouver, a distance of 300 miles, with beautiful scenery all the way. Passing through Manning Park, we had lunch at Manning Lodge—an excellent building, built by the Government and an excellent example of the beautiful timber of British Columbia.

Vancouver is an attractive city, although, I thought, scattered. A lot, Stanley Park, of course, is a great attraction. The rose garden and the other flowers are indeed a picture. The bears, monkeys and birds add interest to the Park, and the two-acre lily pond, ducks and swans have a pretty background in the fir, pine and redwood forest.

Then I visited Victoria—truly a lovely residential city, with gorgeous flowers, and even flower baskets hanging on the electric light poles. About four miles out from Victoria I visited the Butchart Garden, made out of an abandoned limestone quarry. It is the most beautiful place I have ever seen.

I must not forget to mention the beautiful Government Building and the lovely Empress Hotel, with its charming gardens. At night thousands of colored electric lights give a splendid appearance to the two buildings and to the big fountain in front of the government structure.

I happened to be in Kelowna when "Miss Canada" was given a tremendous welcome home.

Latest crop report

Present weather is ideal for promoting the coloring of the apple crop. Growers are applying hormone sprays to McIntosh apples to prevent pre-harvest drop. Insect and disease problems are negligible at present.

These were some of the highlight remarks from the latest news letter of the Horticulture Branch, Department of Agriculture, concerning crop conditions in the Kelowna area.

The letter also reveals that severe hail damage was caused in orchards from Summerland to Westbank Aug. 19. Text of the letter follows:

CHASE TO LILLOOET: As reported September 1: During the past fortnight the weather has been cooler than normal with an occasional light rain occurring.

The McIntosh crop, has sized fairly well and the color is good. Apart from the mid-summer hail damage, the crop has had no other serious setbacks. This district has virtually escaped the apple scab menace, so prevalent this year in some other districts. The picking of Macs will likely begin about the beginning of next week. The first prunes of the season reached the packinghouse yesterday.

Cool weather is responsible for the low volume of ripe tomatoes reaching the canneries which, in a normal season, would now be running at full capacity. Westminster Canners Ltd., however, expects to operate at full speed next week. A small volume of matures is being harvested.

Carrots, beets and onions are in good seasonal abundance; corn is past its peak. Early potatoes are still being harvested and a few lates may be dug next week.

Yields of hops are much the same as last year. Prices, however, are low, bordering on the cost of production.

SALMON ARM-SORENTO: As reported August 28: Showery, cool weather has prevailed since our last report. Rainfall records for the month of August are on the point of being shattered as close to three inches of precipitation has already fallen this month.

The apple crop continues to size satisfactorily and the general size will be considerably larger than last year. The recent rains have increased the growers' anxiety as pin point scab is a definite possibility. The codling moth situation appears to be well in hand. The first pickings of Wealthies are now being made. Quality of this variety is the best for several years as the size and color are generally excellent. Bartlett pears are now being picked with the quality being fair. The prune crop continues to grow and six is expected to exceed that of last year.

Grain crops are now ready for threshing but the harvest is being curtailed by the poor weather. ARMSTRONG, VERNON, OYAMA, WINFIELD AND OKANAGAN CENTRE: As reported September 2: Since our last report the weather has been mostly cloudy and cool with temperatures being lower than average.

Apples are now showing color. Delicious look as though they will run more to larger sizes than last year. Some McIntosh blocks appear to be larger than usual size. At present McIntosh are taking on color and should be greatly improved with the cool nights and sunny days we are experiencing.

Early pickings of Macs will likely be made this week-end but will not be general for another week. Picking of Wealthies is now in full swing and the peak should be reached this week-end. Transcendent crabs are over and Hyslops are now being harvested.

Bartlett pear harvesting should be over by this week-end and may run over earlier estimates owing to larger sizes. Very little gumming of prunes has shown up to date and it looks as though the prune crop will run over earlier estimates.

Harvesting of V peaches has been delayed on account of weather conditions but should be finished within the next few days. Elbertas will not be ready for another week. Bradshaw plums are about over. Stop-drop sprays are now being applied to Mac orchards throughout the district.

Vegetables of all kinds are in plentiful supply and harvesting of the onion crop is now going on when the weather permits. The first cool shipment of watermelons went out of the Armstrong district August 31. Very little movement of celery and lettuce is now taking place from the Armstrong district as much of the early fall lettuce has been ruined by weather conditions and some celery patches have gone to seed. Growers in some instances have already plowed under lettuce and celery. There should be another run of good quality lettuce in about a week's time. Early blight is now showing up in the odd potato field.

Harvesting of grain crops in the Vernon area is about complete but there is still quite a large acreage in the Armstrong and Enderby area to be harvested. Fall plowing is now under way in all areas.

KELOWNA: As reported September 3: Since our last report there have been several unseasonably showery days. Lately the weather has cleared and nights have been quite cool. Present weather is ideal for promoting the coloring of the apple crop.

Growers are applying hormone sprays to McIntosh apples to prevent pre-harvest drop. McIntosh apple harvest will be under way in about ten days time with some spot picking before that. Insect and disease problems are negligible at present.

Bartlett pear harvest has been completed. The quality has been good and with the exception of small sizes there has been little cullage. Flemish Pears, Wealthy apples and Hyslop crabs are being picked. V peaches are nearly all harvested. Early prunes are coming in and show some evidence of stem end shrivel. The bulk of the fruit movement from this district has been Bartletts and peaches with some Wealthies and Hyslop crabs in mixed cars.

The recent cool weather has slowed down the movement of tomatoes to the canneries. The bean

Group sought to sponsor air cadets

British Columbia committee of the Air Cadet League of Canada is endeavoring to interest an existing organization or an independent group of people in sponsoring an air cadet squadron in Kelowna.

Main purpose of the league is to develop better citizens in the youth of various communities. Since the league was formed in 1944 over 75,000 Canadian boys have received valuable lessons in aviation and good citizenship while wearing the air cadet uniform.

Peak strength of the movement, reached in 1944, was 29,000 cadets in 379 squadrons. During the past ten years 50,000 teen-aged cadets have attended special summer camps operated by the RCAF. Of two weeks' duration, the camps offer advanced instruction on aeronautical subjects plus a full schedule of games, outings and organized sports. Top feature of each camp is a familiarization flight in an RCAF aircraft for every cadet.

TRAINING COURSES: Actual flying training courses for senior cadets were first introduced in 1946. Since that time, over 1,400 lads have learned to fly under scholarships granted by the RCAF while an additional 500 or more have received flying lessons under special grants made by civilian committees of the League.

Last year 48 cadets took a special technical training course at Trenton. This summer 100 air cadets reported to Trenton for a seven weeks' course designed to prepare them for positions of leadership with their squadrons.

While air cadets make no commitments regarding future military service, large numbers do decide to voluntarily enlist in the RCAF. A survey recently completed shows that one out of every five airmen presently serving in the regular air force is a former air cadet. Almost without exception, these graduate cadets have met with outstanding success in their training courses.

Local library circulation shows decline

Circulation at the Okanagan Regional Library during the month of August amounted to an even 6400 books, according to the monthly report released last week. During the same month last year, 6,774 books were distributed.

Circulation was made up of 1,597 non-fiction books; 3,457 fiction, and 1,245 juvenile books. Registrations showed a jump of three over the same month last year, when 65 people joined the library.

Following is a list of books recently added to library shelves:

NON-FICTION

The weeping and the laughter, Julian MacLaren-Ross; Books in general, V.S. Pritchett; Dial "up" for murder, Frederick Knott; How to have a happy child, B.S.O. France; A guide to the moon, Patrick Moore; Along way south, Geoffrey Dutton; Green thoughts, Sir S.G. Tallents; The Oliviera, Felix Barker; Auto nomad in Spain, W. MacArthur.

FICTION

The Middleander, Elizabeth Coxhead; Give the little corpse a great big hand, G.A. Bagby; Esther Waters, George Moore; Beyond this place, A.J. Cronin; Landscapes in sunlight, Elizabeth Fair; Bury me in lead, Inge Goodwin; Tom Fool, E.T. Jesse; Mrs. Hulott, Bertram Bloch; The Laughing stranger, V.C. Delmar; A Shilling for candles, Josephine Tey.

In the 20 years preceding the Second World War, Canada did not produce a single sea-going merchant ship.

Owen and Johnston store moves to new location

After almost five years at their Pendozi Street location—since November 16, 1948, to be exact—Owen and Johnston Ltd. has moved to a more central location on Bernard Avenue. The address is 446 Bernard Avenue, between Canada Safeway Ltd. and Sally Shops, two doors from the post office. The door to the new premises opened today.

The two partners, Chester Owen and Bert Johnston, feel they will now meet and serve more people. As in the past, "the store where you are always welcome" will continue with the same progressive policy. An inspection and comparison of their merchandise is invited at all times; it is stressed that no one should feel under any obligation to purchase when he calls.

SHOP RENOVATED

The new store has been completely repainted and renovated with strip lighting all around the top of the fixtures to accentuate the pleasant color scheme and illuminate displays. The bright green front and the familiar Owen and Johnston sign above the door side readily identifies the newly-located men's wear store.

To celebrate the occasion, an "open house" will be held this Saturday from 7.00 to 9.00 p.m. The invitation is extended not only to the men but the ladies as well. Coffee will be served, cigarettes will be plentiful and a sincere welcome is extended to all.

Store partner present governor of Gyro

Governor of District Four, Gyro International, was the high honor conferred on Bert Johnston, in Vancouver, last June. There are 22 clubs in the district which includes British Columbia, Washington and Oregon. During his one-year term of office, Mr. Johnston will have to officiate at numerous functions, beginning in the near future.

Third move in '53 for store partners

This is the third move this year for Owen and Johnston—the partners, not the business, that is. Chester Owen, who resided at Okanagan Mission for many years, and Mrs. Owen, now live in a city apartment block. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Johnston moved to Riverside Drive a few months ago. Now Owen and Johnston Ltd. has moved from Pendozi Street to Bernard Avenue, making three moves in a year.

Former sportscaster

Bert Johnston was the No. 1 sportscaster years ago when basketball was in its heyday in Kelowna and the Orchard City dominated the provincial scene. In those days, hockey was confined to ponds and the Scout Hall literally bulged with patrons. Brother Harold Johnston was a star player.

Cariboo relics preserved in new museum

CLINTON—The history of the South Cariboo has been assembled in a new museum which was officially opened recently by Willard Ireland, provincial archivist at Victoria. The strategic importance of Clinton as a transportation centre for nearly 100 years was also marked by the unveiling of a cairn at the junction of the first road from Lillooet, built in 1859, and the Fraser Canyon-Ashcroft road constructed in 1863 for the convenience of the gold seekers going to Barkerville.

The skys were cloudless for the festivities and a good sized crowd was present for the official opening in the morning when Harold Main-guy, president of the South Cariboo Historical Museum, introduced the guest speaker.

Mr. Ireland expressed his surprise at the quality and quantity of the material on display in the museum. He stated that the committee must have worked "fantastically hard" since the formation of the society two months ago. He said, "The finest tribute this generation can pay to the pioneers is to guard and cherish those things which they have left."

CREATED INTEREST

R. D. Cumming of Ashcroft, who through his paper, the Ashcroft Journal, has done much through the years to create an interest in relics of an earlier age, gave an interesting talk on the "Harper Flour Mill." Other speakers were Mrs. Charles Robertson, school trustee, who spoke on the debt of gratitude owed to the early road builders and to C. E. Payne, whose valuable scrapbook and collection of interesting articles form the nucleus of the museum.

Mrs. Georgina Maisonneville, former Kelowna school district teacher and who was on the teaching staff here last year, received credit from Mrs. Robertson as being the person responsible for the sparking of interest which led to the formation of the Historical Museum Society.

After the opening of the museum, the historical cairn, a few yards down the road, was unveiled by William Young, one of the oldest members of the Clinton Band of Indians.

When the first roads were built, Clinton was the junction at which travellers continued on to the Cariboo goldfields. The community was known as "Junction", but the name

Show windows often small stage settings

Owen and Johnston windows are often stage settings. Both partners have a flair for display work, with Bert Johnston possessing a penchant for cartooning as well.

Their new Bernard Avenue location means a greater window-shopping audience, notably tourists. Mr. Johnston has met cartoonists Len Norris and Jeff Keate and has been in the arty Press Club in New York City.

WELL-KNOWN GOLFER

Chester Owen is one of the Interior's best known golfers and has won numerous trophies and championships. He has long taken an active part in the Kelowna Golf and Country Club.

Growers demand probe into crop distribution

OSOYOOS—A full scale impartial province-wide investigation on the distribution of crops was demanded by local growers at a meeting attended by Frank Richter, MLA for Similkameen, to hear problems confronting the growers.

The growers said that the Marketing Act governing sale of fruit and vegetables was unsatisfactory in its present form.

Growers asked that all phases of the industry be investigated—the selling agency, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, freighting, etc. They emphasized that they wanted this done by an independent body—not with the objective of placing the blame for the present unsatisfactory situation on anybody, but with the view of finding a solution.

In asking for the investigation the growers gave many reasons to Mr. Richter why they were dissatisfied. The MLA spoke in favor of maintaining roadside fruit and vegetable stands as it was a large outlet for produce. He would be opposed to any legislation which may be aimed at ruling them out.

Mr. Richter was asked to see whether he could obtain a local car licence outlet, at least on a temporary basis.

President of both the local fruit growers and the vegetable growers organizations, Louis Hart, put the problem into one short sentence—"sales of vegetables were decreasing while the population was increasing and the spending power of the public was higher."

It was claimed that Vancouver could easily consume the entire tomato crop if distribution was right. The spread in price between the growers' price and the selling price was too large.

PRODUCE INFERIOR

Growers charged the wholesaler was cultivating the idea among retailers that Okanagan produce was inferior because he was making a larger profit on U.S. produce.

The selling agencies were criticized and accused of lack of effort. It was advocated that instead of salaries, the selling services be placed on a commission basis.

The growers pointed out the cons in the all on the grower, whereas the wholesaler was free to do almost as he pleased.

The MLA was told that the quota system of imports used during the wartime and in the 1948 austerity program was satisfactory to the growers as it curtailed the unfair competition from the U.S.

To point out that U.S. imports were coming in unfairly, growers draw attention to the large number of people from across the line who were coming here to buy fruits and vegetables. It was argued that Americans would not be coming was later changed to Clinton in honor of Sir Henry Clinton who was colonial secretary in 1862. The cairn was erected under the auspices of the Clinton and District Chamber of Commerce on a site donated by Bruce McTavish.

Merritt highway work under way

KAMLOOPS—One and a half miles of reconstruction on the Kamloops-Merritt highway near Napier Lake is now underway by a Department of Public Works crew, as part of the overall program to reconstruct this highway to a standard 36-foot road. The rebuilding of the portion known as McConnell Lane, south from Knutsford, last year, was part of this program, as have other improvements on the road, such as the widening of the Cardew Hill road.

The present construction job, which includes the removal of 60,000 cubic yards of rock and 40,000 cubic yards of earth, is the biggest yet undertaken by a public works crew, using its own equipment. Ken Trail is construction foreman and Herbert Bossert is the rock boss. This new portion of the road will eliminate a 125-foot climb over Smith Hill between Napier and Stump lakes. The design and survey was done by Cooper Dunsmore and James Bullock. It is estimated the work will cost between $80,000 and $70,000. The progress to date compares favorably with contract jobs of similar work.

OPENS WELSH SHOW

At Raglan, Monmouth, Wales, over 600 attended the fifth annual sports, fete and horticulture show under the auspices of the Baptist Church. The opening of this show was performed by Mrs. Morgan Lewis of Shannon Lake, Westbank, and a former member of Raglan Baptist Church.

Letter to attorney-general

Major incident erupts between mayor police head after Alta. car impounded

The controversial "pink slip" touched off an incident early this month that grew into major proportions and has echoed through the stately halls of Parliament Buildings in Victoria.

The incident came to public light Monday night when a letter written by Mayor Ladd to Attorney-General Bonner was read at the weekly City Council meeting. The letter complained of "inconvenience and unnecessary delay caused in this city to tourists from other provinces and the United States when they are involved in an accident," claiming the city's work at building up a tourist industry was being defeated and good public relations being broken down.

The dispute arose over the impounding of an Alberta car, the driver of which didn't have a "pink slip." A minor accident occurred early in the evening of Sept. 2, at Bernard and Water, and the Alberta car was impounded, not released until the following day.

Copies of Mayor Ladd's letter were sent to Premier Bennett and Inspector H. J. Spanton, officer commanding of the Kamloops RCMP subdivision.

LAW FOLLOWED

Sgt. Tom Quigley, NCO in charge of the Kelowna detachment, declined comment when advised the incident had come out into the open. "This is a departmental matter and any comment will have to come from my superiors," he said.

Sgt. Quigley did point out, however, that the provisions of the law covering financial responsibility of motor vehicles were carried out. He explained that the only person who can release an auto, once it is impounded, is the superintendent of motor vehicles, Victoria; or his agent, the closest agent being in Vernon.

Attorney-General Bonner's reply to the mayor's letter also was disclosed at Monday's council meeting. The reply follows at the end of the mayor's letter. The mayor's letter to the attorney-general follows:

"The Kelowna City Council is very much concerned about the inconvenience and unnecessary delay caused to this city, to tourists from other provinces and the United States, when they are involved in an accident, even though they can show and produce complete insurance coverage with a firm of an other province but do not have a B.C. 'pink slip'. Recently we have had two instances of tourists—one from Alberta, and one from the United States—being unnecessarily delayed and their cars impounded due to the fact that they were involved in a minor accident and did not have a 'pink slip' although both had complete insurance coverage in their respective places of residence.

"In the evening of September 2, an Alberta tourist, Dr. Van Vleet, a professor at the University of Alberta, was in collision with another motorist in our city, the other motorist failing to stop at a red light and causing the accident. Dr. Van Vleet did not have a B.C. 'pink slip' and consequently his auto was immediately impounded by the local detachment of the RCMP. The professor was requested by the police to furnish proof of financial responsibility before his auto could be released to him.

WIRED COMPANY

"The professor immediately wired his insurance company that evening (Sept. 2) asking that they wire the necessary information regarding his insurance policy direct to the local police in order that his car could be released. At 9:10 the next morning a telegram from Dr. Van Vleet's insurance company in Edmonton was received by the CNR telegraph office in Kelowna and was delivered direct to the RCMP prior to 9:30 a.m., advising that the auto in question was completely covered by insurance and the detailed information was supplied as had been requested by the police.

"At 10:15 a.m. Dr. Van Vleet appeared at the police office and was advised that no wire had yet been received and to call back at noon. The professor then went into the recreation office in the city hall to complete the necessary accident forms requested by the police. Less than 20 minutes after he went to the recreation office, Mr. J. H. Panton, recreation director, went to the police in the same building, to see if it would be possible for Dr. Van Vleet to take his car to a garage to have the necessary repairs made as he had only planned on a short stay in this city. This request was refused and Mr. Pantan was informed why it had been necessary to impound the car and during his conversation with Sgt. Quigley was advised that a wire had been received by the police that morning but it was not clear to the sergeant as to what it meant.

"The wire was from Edmonton and gave the policy number and other information that the professor had been asked by the police officer, the night previous, to secure in order that his car may be released. At this time the professor returned to the police office having completed the necessary accident forms and at the same time produced an insurance verification card, giving all the information concerning his policy, which he had not been able to find in his possession the night before.

STORED IN GARAGE

"As he had complied with all requests of the police by obtaining proof of financial responsibility by wire direct from his insurance company in Edmonton and also by producing his insurance card outlining the details of his policy he then asked that his car be released immediately in order that he might be on his way. This request was refused by the Sergeant and Dr. Van Vleet was instructed to procure a B.C. 'pink slip' and the police then took his car to a garage for storage. Dr. Van Vleet then went to the Kelowna insurance company allied to his and received a 'pink slip' and upon returning to the police office was informed that he could have his car for the afternoon but the police would have to wire Victoria regarding the case and he would have to report back.

"Dr. Van Vleet then proceeded without the courtesy of a ride by the police, to the garage where the police had stored his auto and being a tourist totally unfamiliar with the city, this added more annoyance to the situation. The professor reported back to the RCMP at 5:15 p.m. that afternoon and his car was then officially released.

"The manner in which this case was handled was deplorable and in my opinion and also in the opinion of all the Kelowna City Council, we feel that this delay and annoying inconvenience is absolutely unnecessary when a person from an outside province or from the U.S. can produce evidence of full insurance coverage on an auto. We are in full accord with the insurance regulations covering automobiles in B.C. and both the municipalities and the province of B.C. spend great amounts of money to encourage tourists to come to this province. We feel that the treatment they receive, such as the case mentioned above and also the case as reported in my wire of July 14th, 1953, to yourself, not only tends to keep tourists away but is very detrimental to the good public relations which we are endeavoring to keep at a high standard in order that this city and province as a whole may prosper through the tourist trade.

"Perhaps, and it would be certainly appreciated, your department could issue instructions to avoid such unnecessary and annoying situations recurring."

Here is Attorney-General Bonner's reply, dated Sept. 10:

"This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of September 4th, the contents of which I have carefully noted.

"This is a matter with which we are presently concerned and studying the act with the view to introducing improvements to cover the situation."

All-time record for school enrolment

KAMLOOPS—School enrolment in Kamloops reached a new high with all schools at the bursting point. The tentative total for the city and North Kamloops schools administered by School District 24 is 2,648.

St. Ann's Academy has enrolled 268 and the Kamloops Indian Residential School has 310 of the expected 400 students. Registrations from the rural schools will not be received until later this month.

The elementary enrolment in the public schools has passed the 1,500 mark, where two years ago there were about 1,000 pupils. The breakdown is Allan Matthews, 489; Lloyd George, 223; Stuart Wood, 316; North Kam, 450. In all schools a few more students are expected before the end of the week, filling all accommodation to capacity.

The primary enrolment in the above schools is 325 with a few more still to come.

Kamloops High School had 1,100 pupils on Tuesday, 100 more than on opening day last year. Several more are expected before the end of the month. The girls' section of the dormitory quarters is full and on the boys' side there are three vacancies. With one exception in the girls' section the students are all from District No. 24.

Tie-breaker games mean batting championship for Tony Brummet

By special communique, Okanagan-Mainline Baseball League officials have announced that Tony Brummet, Vernon catcher, won the league's batting title with a hefty .400.

The special tie-breakers necessitated at the end of league play made the difference between Brummet hauling down the gonfalon or Bill Raptis, Penticton slugger.

At first, the league brass decided the tie-breakers should not be included as league games, and awarded the title to Raptis, who had a .411 at the conclusion of the 20 league games. But when it was brought to their attention that in the major leagues, tie-breakers are considered league games for statistical purposes, the decision was changed.

In the post game with Kamloops, Raptis went hitless for five times, dropping his average to .383. Meanwhile, Brummet, in his extra appearance against Kelowna, had two-for-three, upping his mark from .390 to .400.

HOME RUN KINGS
And so the batting shield, the Vernon News Trophy, goes to Brummet on the basis of performance of that one day when Pen-dropping Kamloops to second, and Kelowna sidelined Vernon from the playoffs.

Brummet and Kelowna's slugging duo of Bob Campbell (Orioles' most valuable player and the league's rookie of the year) and John Lingor passed the fence-busters with five homers apiece.

Top pitcher was Kamloops' Len Gatin with a 10-2 record. Ted Bowfield, of Penticton had five wins and one loss to his credit before injury forced him out of action. Bowfield had the best inning mark, averaging three strikeouts. He was touched for 24 hits in 57 innings pitched.

ALL-STAR GAME

Plans are going ahead for the first of what is hoped to be annual north-south all-star games. So far the teams haven't been selected. Players from Kamloops, Vernon and Kelowna will represent the north while the southerners will be made up of select ballmen from Summerland, Penticton and Oliver.

Keeping in the swim

(Editor's Note—This is the first of a series of monthly articles intended to keep the activities of the Ogoopogo Swimming Club before the public.)

The Ogoopogo Club held its first meeting of the year August 27 at the Aquatic with vice-president Jane Sirling in the chair. Elected for the coming year were: president, Linda Ghezzi; vice-president, Thelma Gagnon; secretary, Mary McKenzie; treasurer, Pearl Shelly.

A second meeting was held Sept. 10 and the problem of new swim suits was discussed. Our present club colors are wine and grey but we hope to change them to brighter ones.

The treasurer reported $123 in the bank. Memberships are on sale now for $1 and anyone interested in swimming is welcome to join.

POOL FOR WINTER

Regretful mention was made of the fact that Kelowna still hasn't got some sort of a pool for swimmers to train in during the winter. This should have been the time to build, what with the B.E. Games so close at hand.

Who knows but with year-round training facilities, Kelowna might have had some good swimming contenders. There is no reason why Kelowna should not have one of the best swim teams in B.C. Our club is keen on a swim pool but doesn't know what to do or how to go about raising money. If anyone has any suggestions we'd be pleased to listen.

Some of the OSC speed swimmers can still be seen training in the lake. The water's fine yet and they're making the most of it.

Well, that's all for now. Ogo.

Chiefs claim B.C. title by default

Kelowna Chiefs are claiming the B.C. junior baseball championship and there is nobody to prove they are wrong.

Still willing to prove it against any other junior club in the province, the Chiefs learned this week that the proposed final between them and the coast's best won't materialize.

The reason: There is no Vancouver team still organized to oppose them.

As a result the Chiefs have laid claim to the B.C. title they tried in vain to gain the previous two seasons in finals against Vancouver Collingwoods.

Waterfowl outlook good though crop under last year's

Waterfowl population is down from last year by approximately 25 percent, due chiefly to limited breeding success of two major species, Mallard and Pintail. Canada Geese down, but most of the other species, particularly divers, have done well.

Such is the estimate of the waterfowl of Western Canada's prairie and parkland regions, outlined in the September edition of the Ducks Unlimited "Duckological," prepared by Chief Naturalist Bert W. Cartwright.

Commenting on the fact that "success of the diving ducks conforms to the general rule that they do well in a wet year," Cartwright adds: "The belated success of the surface feeders—other than Mallard and Pintail—is due to their late nesting and re-nesting, which projected the hatch into July and August."

"It is remarkable the number of broods of average size which appeared in the first 15 days of August. Favorable weather is needed to mature these birds."

SURVEY RESULTS

Ground surveys and brood counts by D.U. biologists and Keenmen over the prairie breeding range, as well as a 6,000-mile aerial survey over northern parkland areas, provided data for the findings in the current "Duckological."

Admitting that shortage of Mallard and Pintail was noticeable throughout the aerial survey, Cartwright pointed out that "we saw more Canvasbacks than on any previous survey; Lesser Scaup were as numerous as last year and Redhead, Gadwall and Baldpate were equal to or better than 1952 figures."

Concluding observation is that the duck population is "good despite nesting setbacks. With the waterfowl hunting season due to open generally across the western prairies within the next few days, the only major change of script would seem to be a swing of spotlight over to the more successful diving ducks."

BOWLADROME MEN'S LEAGUE

Tuesday

Copp's Shoe Store was back in stride, booting home three of the night's honors, with Bill Person still continuing to set the average pace. Pearson captured triple honor with his 748 and the Coppmen walked off with both team laurels—1,211 and 3,311. Russ Kelly of CNR rolled a 329 in his second game for the single high of the night.

Team scores were: Copp's 3, Rutland Cubs 1; K.Y.B.A. 4, Sutton Meat Market 0; CNR 4, Freedom 0; S.M. Simpson's 3, Coscades 1; Oak Barbers 3, McKenzie, White & Dunsmuir 1; Pollock Motors 3, Occidental Fruit 1; Interior Industrial Electric 4, No. 14, 0.

Three of a kind beats a pair anytime

Brother combinations in lacrosse are not unusual in a sport where brotherliness seems to have little part—on the floor of battle at least. But when they triple up on you on one team then it is out of the ordinary. And if the three are the backbone of the 14 or less in the lineup, it is downright remarkable.

We had a case of a team built around three brothers at Vernon, not so long ago that virtually everyone can remember it. One of them—the youngest—still is in the wars, reaching the climax of his career. The oldest has retired from the game completely while the other, in between, makes sporadic appearances in arenas either in battle strip or in the attire of an arbiter.

Yes, for quite a few years the ex-Trail Sammartino threesome WERE boxla in Vernon. The color and class of Boone, Rollo and Sarge are vanished as a unit, and it will be a long time before Okanagan lacrosse fanatics witness another combination like the Sammartinos.

In a sense, though, we cold-blooded creatures are seeing a trio of successors, who, in their own way, are just as noteworthy. The Ritchie brothers of the Kelowna Bruins, working together for the first time, are not the backbone of the Kelowna squad, but they have gouged out a niche for themselves in the hearts of the boxla brethren by proving themselves, despite a general take-it-for-granted attitude on the part of most of us.

Other pastures look greener, don't they?

By that, I mean to say that were the Ritchies performing for another team in this league, we would probably know more about them than we do now. Just harken back to a couple of years ago when John Ritchie, for personal reasons that would do no good to discuss now, played for Vernon. The very fact that he was playing against his home team incensed many a stout supporter of the Bruins, and you will recall, he was given more attention, whether good or bad, than he got this season, though he had a much better year for Kelowna. So good that he won the scoring title in a breeze!

The past two years, John Ritchie has developed into as smooth a playmaker as there'll be found in senior "B" boxla and the equal of some in the top senior bracket. Similarly, the past campaign has given Dave, the kid of the group and close to the youngest—if not the baby—on the team, a chance to show he has a good future ahead of him. Dave, big and stocky of the will never, in my humble opinion, reach the scoring prominence his brother John has, but opposing players will have to be wary when approaching the Bruins' citadel when Dave Ritchie is standing his ground. Dave crashed into bigtime in a bash-em-down way and should be a main cog in Kelowna's defensive plans for the next 10 years.

Real champions are made of sterner stuff

The guy who deserves the most praise but never asks for any is game and gutsy Ken, the senior of the three and a splendid example of triumph over misfortune. The fact that he won the goalkeeper laurels in the league this year (for the first time) is outstanding itself, but when it is accomplished by a man who has an almost useless left arm, then that rates rave notices.

This column, too, has been tainted with shortsightedness, but in a feeble and belated effort to make up for shortcomings, it gives credit to a fine gamester who all his youth has played among the best of them, on the attack or in goal, despite the crippling effects of polio when just a youngster. If there are any other victims of this dreaded illness who are left similarly handicapped, let them take heart in the victory of Ken Ritchie and strive to emulate the example set by our under-rated net-minder.

AL-DEN-ETTES—A nice way to show our appreciation to Ken Ritchie would be to attend this week-end's B.C. final against Victoria and give him and his teammates the moral support that could gather in another provincial blue ribbon for the City of Champions. Congrats to the Orioles and Chiefs for a bang-up baseball season and to the hundreds who turned out at the Stadium Sunday to urge Rudy Ritchie and his boys on to the opening win in the playoffs. While on baseball, let's tip our hats to the OMBL president, Curly Jellison of Vernon, and his capable secretary, Wally Janik, also of Vernon, who set a standard of data-keeping that never has been equalled before. And who is to blame Ray Ritchie? He really had something to shout for this year. And who is the Englishman sold on Ireland just after a trip back from the Isles? Sure, and you can call him Ernie O'Mason now. Why he even boasts of having kissed the Blarney Stone. A wee note of sadness, mixed with tribute for the passing of the column "Sports Chatter" from the Okanagan scene. Venerable Dad Palmer has called it quits after teaching the rest of us hot-headed scribes and commentators how to hew the middle line. "Thirty" to Dad Palmer's weekly efforts is not only a loss to the Penticton Herald but to the entire valley sports sphere. And if you have any sympathy left, don't be hard on the local hockey execs. They're doing a thankless and unpaid job the best they can, and better than most of us are willing to even try, to give us the kind of hockey they honestly believe the majority wants. That's why the public has to pay for it. The directors stand in sticking religiously by their budget is to be commended. It doesn't make sense going broke trying to keep up with the others. We could always threaten to wrap it up—and then watch the others come tumbling back to reason!
